Mayoral candidates answer to the issues

BY D.C. HARVILL

In May, Bay St. Louis will elect a new mayor. To give the public a better understanding of where the three candidates stand, we decided to question them on several issues. Candidates are two Democrats, former mayor Larry J. Bennett and City Clerk Edward A. Eddie Favre and real estate manager Martin Morreale on the Republican ticket.

The questions and the candidate's responses follow:

How would you accomplish improvements to the city (municipal buildings, streets, utility services, etc.) without increases in tax or utility rates?

Bennett—I have to go in and see what improvements need to be made and see what funds are available. My past record proves I am not in favor of tax increases. I keep repeating this because I was there eight and a half years, made many, many significant improvements and did not increase taxes one penny. In fact there was one time when we were able to lower taxes just a little bit.

Favre—The primary way would be through aggressive economic development, by bringing other businesses to town that are compatible with the way of life here. Bringing in businesses that are both property tax and sales tax generating eases the financial burden on the local people.

The second area would be to seek alternative sources of funding. Instead of putting the entire monkey on business and residential property owners, seek other sources such as sales tax that would be in lieu of, not in addition to, property tax. Basically what we are talking about is getting approval from the legislature for a local option where we can have an additional sales tax that would come back entirely to Bay St. Louis and use this to offset property taxes instead of being in addition to property taxes.

Morreale—I intend to analyze the budget and see where there is waste and where there is efficiency through a program of interviewing employees and

Estess tells Bay Rotary new area impact figures

NASA's Roy Estess, director of the John C. Stennis Space Center, released new figures regarding the economic impact the space center has on the Gulf Coast community.

Estess told members of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club at the regular meeting Wednesday that the space center had an estimated $439-million impact on the economy in 1988. Of that total, $282 million was spent within a 50-mile radius of the space center.

Based on a study recently conducted by Mississippi State University, it is estimated that personal income in the local area was $469.7 million as a direct and indirect result of Stennis Space Center's operations. The study reports that the space center's tax revenue impact on local government was $24 million for 1988.

Economists also say that employment in the local area directly and indirectly benefited from the Stennis Space Center to the tune of 19,205 jobs. The space center, located in Hancock County, draws its workforce from across South

Mississippi and parts of Louisiana.

With the operations of 18 different federal and state agencies located at the center, along with nine major contractors, Stennis draws heavily upon the resources of the local communities to accomplish its missions.

Distribution of its 5,438-member workforce in 1988 breaks down to: 19 percent living in Hancock County; 22 percent in Harrison County; 31 percent in Pearl River County; and seven percent in other areas of Mississippi. A total 21 percent of Stennis employees reside in Louisiana. Seventeen percent live in St. Tammany Parish.

According to the study findings, Stennis Space Center's economic impact on Louisiana exceeded $84 million in 1988 for salaries, goods and services. Estess said $12.9 million was spent in New Orleans for the purchase of liquid hydrogen used for testing the Space Shuttle main engines.

Of Stennis Space Center's workforce, 27 percent are employed in scientific and engineering fields. Fifteen percent of the personnel are in business professional fields, 41 percent are technicians or are in crafts and production, and 13 percent hold clerical positions. The remaining four percent of Stennis personnel are in other lines of work.

Twenty-three percent of SSC's civil servants have master's and doctoral degrees. Thirty-seven percent of the personnel have bachelor's degrees, 25 percent have associate degrees or some college experience, and 15 percent have at least high school education.

Stennis Space Center is recognized as the nation's premiere center for testing large rocket propulsion engines and systems. Its current mission is to conduct all research and development testing and flight certification of the Space Shuttle main engine for NASA.

SSC's Science and Technology Laboratory is involved in scientific research and space applications. The 18 federal and state agencies resident at Stennis are primarily engaged in exploring space, the oceans and Earth.

FATAL ACCIDENT—The wreckage of an '82 Camaro in which 13-month-old Kelly Howard of Pearllington was killed Tuesday night rests in front of Dave's Wrecker Service. The child was pronounced dead at the scene at 11:30 p.m. by Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet. The child's mother, Jane Howard, 24, remains in critical condition at Slidell Memorial Hospital, Stiglet said. Also injured in the crash were Edgar Barnes, James Bennett and Milton Jackson. A Hancock County Sheriff's spokesman said the accident occurred when the car hit a tree beside Mississippi 604 north of Pearllington. Mississippi Highway Patrol is investigating the accident. Man who rescued child drowns Monday night

BY DENA BISNETTE

Eighteen-year-old Wolfgang Robert Schmidt Jr., who saved a toddler from drowning earlier this year, drowned Monday night in Shoreline Park.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said he remembered Schmidt's name because the young man had been involved in the rescue of 16-month-old Steven Anthony Ladner on Feb. 3.

The incident occurred in the Fenton Community when little boy managed to open a door at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dale Ladner, and wandered into a small pond. Schmidt and the youngster's half-brother, Jimmy Ladner Jr., had pulled the child from the pond and Schmidt had administered CPR until help arrived.

The child, Peterson said, has recovered. When Schmidt drowned Monday in a small bayou behind the home of some friends in Shoreline Park, he was not as lucky.

Peterson said there had been a party at the house, which belonged to Cyril J. Dunn.

"Everything indicated there'd been some heavy drinking going on," the sheriff stated. "We're treating this as an accidental drowning right now."

Apparently, Schmidt had been drinking with a companion, 25-year-old Terrell V. Frazier, on the bank of the bayou. After Frazier allegedly passed out on the bank, a 16-year-old girl who was in the house, Melanie Turnbough, looked outside and saw Schmidt in the water. "She knew they'd both been drinking and she went outside to try and find him," Peterson said. "She didn't see him again so she went back inside and called the sheriff's department."

The call came into the office at about 8:45 p.m. Schmidt's body was not recovered until almost 11 p.m., when Deputies Matt Karl and Kenny Hurt found him after dragging operations of more than an hour and a half by the sheriff's department and Bureau of Marine Resources officers.

Peterson said Schmidt's death was the first fatal drowning this year; the young man was pronounced dead at the scene by Hancock County Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet.

An autopsy was scheduled Tuesday. The sheriff said authorities can not determine whether Schmidt had merely decided to go swimming or whether he fell into the water.

Peterson said that during the investigation he felt the area was familiar and discovered that he had been there four years earlier to investigate another drowning in the bayou across the street.

"There was this little place where you put boats in the water, and I kept looking at that," said the sheriff, who later went over there and met a young woman who told him he had investigated her father's death by drowning four years ago.

Nathan Hoda is in charge of the investigation, which is continuing. Also at the scene was Assistant County Medical Examiner Jim Odom.

Vietnam memorial designs to be displayed May 13

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock Countians will have an opportunity to see the designs for the Mississippi Vietnam Veteran's Memorial without having to travel out of the county.

Henry J. Cook III, state chairman of the Mississippi Vietnam Veteran's Committee, said models of the memorial designs will be displayed at an open house Saturday, May 13, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse. He said there are 10 designs, nine of which were submitted by the Mississippi State University School of Architecture and one that was approved by the Vietnamese Community.

Three of the 10 will be incorporated into the final design for the memorial, which will be placed in Point Cadet Plaza in Biloxi.

Refreshments will be available at the open house, which is sponsored by Holiday Inns, Ruth's Bakery, Circuit Clerk Pamela Metzler, Chancery Clerk E. Michael Ncaise and Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

Moon rock featured at Hancock Bank display

A 152-gram moon rock collected by American astronauts during the Apollo space program will be on display Monday, April 24, through Wednesday, April 26, at Hancock Bank in Bay St. Louis as part of the NASA, Community Involvement Program, "Coast Encounters: A Space Age Adventure in Science Literacy for the Mississippi Gulf Coast."

The three-week program, which began Sunday, April 16, and will continue through Friday, May 5, is sponsored by key community, education and business leaders from the Gulf Coast and officials with the John C. Stennis Space Center.

Astronauts Harrison Schmitt, Ron Evans and Gene Cernan returned this particular lunar sample during the Apollo 17 mission, the sixth and last manned lunar landing. The crew launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on Dec. 7, 1972 and returned Dec. 19, 1972.

The lunar sample is one of several space exhibits which will be on display along the Gulf Coast during the program. The moon rock has been loaned to the Stennis Space Center by the Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas.

These programs focus the national resources of the entire space agency on particular communities in order to introduce students to the challenges of careers in science and technology. The program is being held in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties.

The return of lunar samples to Earth was the major scientific achievement of the Apollo program. The six successful Apollo landings returned more than 2,000 different samples of the moon which totaled 842 pounds.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Space, science and engineering is really on the minds of many of the students along the Mississippi Gulf Coast with Coast Encounters now in full swing.

The NASA community involvement program aimed at all the schools in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River Counties will continue for three weeks.

A ribbon cutting to open the three-week period of festivities was held Sunday at the Edgewater Mall and the winners of the school poster and literary contests were named.

The posters of the 30 finalist are on display in the Mall and I want you to know that a large number of those were done by students from Hancock County.

The groundwork for Coast Encounters began several months ago when a steering committee was selected to coordinate the three-week affair.

The chairman for this select committee is Buz Olsen, Hancock County Port and Harbor executive director; with Libby Roland, chamber executive director; and Randy Castello, chamber president as members.

This trio from Hancock County along with a few from the other three counties and NASA officials, as well as others at the John C. Stennis Space Center, really put in long hours in preparation for the special project.

Support for this event was also received by the steering committee from the Governor of Mississippi, the State Superintendent of Education, the Gulf Coast Economic Development Council, and businesses, individuals and professionals from the respective counties.

Our school superintendents, principals, teachers, students and parents have also worked long hours in preparing various projects needed to help make Coast Encounters a reality.

Coast Encounters' purpose is to promote an awareness and stimulate utilization of these materials and services by our schools.

Among the goals of the special programs in the schools is to stimulate and capture the imagination of the youth in the areas of science and mathematics by introducing them to the challenges of a career in science.

At a blast-off luncheon on Monday, it was revealed that out of 10,000 high school students interested in science, only 10 of them will receive a doctorate degree.

On Monday, Dr. Robert Brown, director of Education Affairs at NASA headquarters said that the majority of women and minorities fall away from science and math in high school. This happens even though studies show they do just as well through eighth grade.

Dr. Brown talked about the three things which turn kids on to learning; ghosts, dinosaurs and space. He then added that over time, ghosts and dinosaurs recede, but space remains.

With today's technology, there is an increase in the need for people with science and engineering degrees. The increased need should continue well into the next century.

Several years ago, NASA opened an educational resource center at the John C. Stennis Space Center.

Students are in for a real treat with all of the special speakers and exhibits, which will be moving about the coast through May 5.

There will be exhibits at local schools, teacher workshops, moon rocks displays at the area's banks, and even the largest aircraft flyover in Mississippi, along the coastline from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula on Saturday, April 29.

We are hoping the benefits from the the Coast Encounters, a Space-age Adventure in Science Literacy, will continue through our youth of today in the exploration of space for centuries to come.

On Friday at 7 p.m. there will be a political forum for the candidates for Bay St. Louis mayor and city council.

The event, sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and WLOX-TV, will be held at the Mississippi Power Company's Auditorium, U.S. 90 and Dunbar Avenue.

It is hoped there will be many interested parties attending the forum.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is still selling tickets for the Space Cruise on the Pride of Mississippi. One cruise is scheduled for Saturday night and the other Sunday morning.

For further information, call the chamber at 467-9048.

A free Concert in the Park will be held on Saturday starting at 6 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Business Association and will feature Bo & Dee and will take place at the Bay St. Louis City Hall Park.

Boiled crawfish, chicken and andouille gumbo, beer and soft drinks will be available.

We know previous concerts sponsored by the association have been big hits.

By the way, we understand arrangements have been made to have the area sprayed for gnats.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

President praises participation in 'Coast Encounters' programs

It gives me great pleasure to extend warm greetings and congratulations to the students, teachers, business, and community leaders of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, and Pearl River Counties who are participating in the John C. Stennis Space Center Community Involvement Program.

As a President who is fully committed to expanding educational opportunities for our young people, I heartily applaud "Coast Encounters: A Space Age Adventure in Science Literacy For The Mississippi Gulf Coast." Because of this wonderful program, students in four counties will gain greater appreciation for science and mathematics and will learn about possible careers in the science field.

Gulf Coast residents will discover NASA educational resources, business and industry leaders will be encouraged to become more involved in education, and the general public will grow in understanding of the mission of the John C. Stennis Space Center. What a fantastic contribution to the community!

We must promote excellence in education; our children deserve no less. The longer our graduation lines are today, the shorter our unemployment lines will be tomorrow.

Programs such as this not only give students a special incentive to excel in science and mathematics but also enhance the quality of their education. That's good news for the great State of Mississippi and for the entire Nation.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes for a most successful project. God bless you.

Republican Party does not choose or exclude candidates

To the Editor:

A recent news report in The Sea Coast Echo made a big story of whether or not a Republican Municipal Committee was established in Bay St. Louis.

The facts are that a committee was established more than 20 years ago and has certified several Republican candidates for election in past years.

The news should have been that only recently was a Democratic Municipal Committee established, indicating that for many years Democratic candidates had been illegally elected in Bay St. Louis.

The Republican Party is growing at all levels—right down into the heart of politics—the local level. Across the state many citizens are now choosing to run as Republican candidates. Many are excellent candidates, while some are "not too good." But this is American politics.

It is not the Republican Party's function to choose or exclude potential candidates.

The law clearly states any candidate may run under any party banner as long as certain rules are met—must be a registered voter in the community and not convicted of a felony. Nothing about good moral character can be taken into account by the certifying committee.

The growth of the Republican Party throughout Mississippi has been phenomenal the past several years. We believe our stand on the issues and traditional values is more in line with the beliefs of the average voter.

We have always adhered to the letter of the law in conducting our campaigns. Maybe the time has come in Mississippi politics that all political parties will be more attuned to the election laws and the process will continue to improve.

Sincerely yours,
Michael R. Smith

Executive Committee

NASA'S EDUCATION CHAIRMAN—Dr. Robert Brown, director of Educational Affairs at NASA Headquarters, Washington, was among the speakers at the 'Coast Encounters' blast-off luncheon on Monday. Dr. Brown stressed the need for our country to strengthen science and engineering education programs, so that we remain competitive with other countries. He said by the year 2000, the need for career scientists will more than triple. NASA astronaut Lt. Cmdr Ken Bowersox, seated, also spoke on the need to educate children in careers for the space program. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Special legislative session to address critical issue

Gov. Ray Mabus has gotten himself into hot water with a lot of legislators by calling them back this week into special session two weeks after a rather exhausting, if not very productive, 90-day regular session.

Now the special session, to tackle a capital improvements bond issue and a full-time parole board, both of which were left twisting in the wind at the end of the regular session, becomes a critical test of how effective a lobbyist Mabus can be with some hard-to-move lawmakers.

Mabus sustained a major setback in the dying hours of the regular session when he failed to dislodge a $78 million capital improvements bond issue measure which became caught in a House procedural snarl after getting rough treatment on the floor in both branches.

The bond issue was one of the administration's centerpiece to begin a major renovation and repair of state buildings, particularly at institutions of higher learning, which have a backlog of unmet repair needs for the past 10 years.

Originally Mabus had proposed an $80 million bond issue, but this was pared down to $46 million in the House and upped to $100 million in the Senate.

A conference committee version put the figure at $78 million but neither branch would buy the proposal, largely because of a $6 million item put into the bill in conference to buy a building at Southport Mall in west Jackson which the state has rented for almost 10 years.

Even though the state has a very low bonded indebtedness, there is a latent reluctance in the Legislature to issuance of general obligation bonds, which would be used for the capital improvements measure pushed by Mabus.

The state, which came to rely on federal revenue sharing funds for capital improvements in the 60s and early 70s has put very little money into construction and repair of buildings since the federal funds were cut off 10 or 12 years ago.

State Sen. Bob Montgomery of Canton, one of the key backers of the Mabus bond issue, contends that the state over the past decade has spent only $1.5 to $3 million a year on repair and renovation of a $2 billion state plant. "That's criminal," Montgomery said.

Some critics felt that Mabus stood by and let the bond issue bill get out of hand during the regular session when it should have been passed rather than having to now deal with it in a special session.

"I think the governor is going to have to get in the middle of this or we are going to be around a long time, and the capital improvements bond issue may not pass at all," observed Sen. Irb Benjamin of Corinth.

But Benjamin felt that if Mabus "gets really tough with this," and keeps the bond issue from ballooning, it will get legislative clearance.

Administration leaders admitted they expected tough sledding for the bond issue in the House, where Mabus seems to generate more personal hostility to his programs.

"It seems that everything the governor is for becomes more of a sensitive issue in the House," said one lawmaker.

Mabus had incurred legislative wrath last November when a memorandum was sent to department heads by a high administration staffer instructing them to clear with the governor's office before agency representatives contacted legislators or appeared before legislative committees.

Mabus, however, won the respect of a good many lawmakers when he took the heat for closing the state's three remaining charity hospitals at Meridian, Vicksburg and Laurel by vetoing the funding bills for the hospitals, a move that automatically shuts them down July 1.

But some legislators sense that Mabus is becoming less interested in getting involved in the legislative nitty-gritty and more interested in his personal image and his longterm political future.

He does not get high marks on his ability to persuade lawmakers on a one-on-one basis, and several have told of his temper tantrums when things didn't go his way in the Legislature.

To further his national ambitions, Mabus must still have some major accomplishments in Mississippi to point to. That may be the secret agenda for his plan to launch Education Reform Act II, an expansion of the ambitious 1982 program for educational improvement.

But there's no way to reach another plateau of education reform without a tax increase, and Mabus knows that.

seeking advice from experts in the field I might be interested in improving. Once I gathered the information, I would meet with the city council and discuss the issue and evaluate each department. If we find there is a problem, we will form a position whereby the problem could be solved. By selecting the best alternative we can develop a policy to correct inefficiency and waste. Then I would have an ongoing feedback program to see if the policies and procedures are correct and we are achieving that goal.

How would you bring jobs to the city without compromising its residential areas?

Bennett—It seems I have been misquoted about (Bay Technical Associates). I am not against Bay Tech. My statement was I did not approve of the way the present administration rammed it down the throats of the people of the Fourth Ward. There is not one person who could deny that Mr. Ramsey has done an outstanding job with the building (old Jitney Jungle Building) he redid in the Second Ward. I will cooperate with anyone who wants to bring industry into this city that will employ local people, people who live within the city limits.

Favre—There are certain types of businesses that are compatible with the residential neighborhoods. We have several areas in town that presently are properly zoned to accommodate the types of business we need to provide the jobs. And there are large areas of undeveloped residential areas that need to be looked at as potential sites for developments without getting into the residentially developed areas.

Even though there may be some businesses that should locate in commercial zones, there are some businesses, realistically, that can fit very well into existing residential neighborhoods. Each one would complement the other. Those are the kinds of businesses we need to seek.

Morreale—We have a planning and zoning structure that has been in place for several years. I served on the planning and zoning committee about 15 years ago. Spot zoning is what I am completely against. I don't want to compromise residential areas when there are commercial or industrial areas available.

Spot zoning is illegal and has been challenged in court. The zoning ordinances are in place. I think we should adhere to them because there's a lot of government money spent to create the plan we have now. I think the individuals who did this plan are very professional, ethical and have the background to study that. They are the experts who decided what the plan should be.

Recent cooperative efforts between Hancock County's three law enforcement agencies have met with failure. How would you foster better working relations between them?

Bennett—In the past we always had a good working relationship with all the local law enforcement agencies. This is something we will have again.

Favre—It is going to require that all three entities put aside any personal or personality conflicts they have and pull together. That is the only way the people in all three areas, both cities and the outside area, are going to receive maximum benefit. None of us (the three agencies) is large enough to have a super law enforcement agency that can do it all by itself. So what we've got to do is combine resources and work together to solve the problem. The public bickering that is going on needs to stop—for the public's sake. There needs to be a sit-down, face-to-face meeting with all the agencies involved and work out the past problems so we can start solving the future problems.

Morreale—I believe the reason they haven't harmonized and worked in conjunction with each other is because there wasn't enough homework done in order to achieve a harmonious relationship between the three entities. I believe the person who becomes mayor should take the leadership and take the bull by the horns and meet with the heads of each entity and formulate a personal relationship to achieve this. We, as a group, should become more involved and try to establish policies, goals and guidelines to work on a business-like basis. It can't happen over night. We need to cultivate the three top (law officers) in the county to show respect to the entire population.

Everyone is concerned about the environment. If you knew an industry wanting to locate here would pose an environmental hazard, which would take precedence, the environment or the jobs that would

VISA SCAM

Two Pride of Mississippi employees have been arrested by the U.S. Border Patrol.

David A. Mandel, supervisor of the agency's Gulfport office, said one was arrested Friday on an indictment from Miami, Fla., authorities, and the other was expected to turn himself in sometime Wednesday in Miami.

According to Mandel, Sylvester Gardiner, an Irish citizen working as crew manager aboard the cruise ship, was providing letters stating that the holders were employees of a foreign flag ship and had to come to the U.S. to join that ship. Such letters of employment can be used to obtain visas.

Mandel said that federal authorities believe the ship named in the letters does not exist.

Clive Allen, a Jamaican national working as a crew member, was the one arrested in Mississippi by officers of the border patrol and the U.S. Marshal's Office.

He is accused of recruiting Jamaicans to purchase the letters from Gardiner and actually selling the letters.

Mandel said extradition of Allen to Florida is likely.

"This is a violation of immigration laws. These men are charged with inducing aliens to enter this country by fraud," the agent added.

HEARING RESULTS

A preliminary hearing for a Hancock County man accused of a drug violation did not show enough evidence to bind the case over to the July Grand Jury.

Justice Court Judge Joseph Dobson said he felt there was not enough evidence, but a Grand Jury could pick up the case on its own later.

The case involved is that of Harless "Cricket" Eugene Johnson of Necaise-Cesar Road. Johnson had been charged with conspiracy and attempt to sell a controlled substance, which Dobson said is a felony offense.

ROBBERY SOLVED

Two juveniles have been charged in connection with an April 4 burglary at a Felicita Street home.

Officer Richard Hannah of the Bay St. Louis Police Department said two male juveniles, one 14 years old and one 15 years old, have been turned over to Youth Court authorities.

Hannah said a number of the items stolen in the burglary were recovered. Four items, including a Smith and Wesson .38 special handgun with holster, a Zap skimmer board, a small pocket knife and a toy remote control car.

The recovered items included a Winchester rifle Model 52, a slingshot, several knives and other sporting goods items and a remote control garage door opener.

FUGITIVE FOUND

A routine speeding stop on Interstate-10 has led to the arrest of a Florida fugitive.

State Trooper Darryl Deschamp stopped Kelley Stockwood, 23, of Miami, Fla., at about 6:40 p.m. Monday near the Diamondhead exit.

During a routine check of Stockwood's license, Deschamp found out Stockwood was wanted by Orlando, Fla., authorities on a parole violation.

A passenger in the vehicle, Joanne A. Henry, 36, of New Orleans was also arrested and charged with possession of narcotics and carrying a concealed weapon. She was strip-searched after being taken to the Hancock County Jail and a small amount of crack cocaine was found.

Bond for Henry was set at $10,000. Parole violators are held without bond. Stockwood is awaiting possible extradition to Florida.

North Bay to conduct kindergarten registration

North Bay Elementary School will conduct kindergarten pre-registration for the 1989-90 school term on Monday, April 24, and Wednesday, April 26 from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. in Room 19.

Students who reside within the North Bay School District and plan to enter kindergarten next fall are eligible to pre-register.

A certified copy of the child's birth certificate, a Social Security number, and a Certificate of Compliance from the health department or family physician are required for pre-registration.

Mississippi law mandates that children who are to enter kindergarten must attain the age of five on or before Sept. 1, 1989. Hearing and vision screening tests will be administered free of charge to each child who pre-registers as a service to the parents and the child.

All parents are urged to pre-register their eligible children. Any questions concerning registration should be directed to Rodney Fisher, principal of North Bay Elementary School at 467-4757.

Waveland Elementary will register at a later date.

Research works.

Bennett—The environment. While, I repeat, I am in favor of jobs, we need them desperately, this one of the very few areas left that looks like it has been untouched by the spoils of industry. We have the cleanest of air and the best of water. We are known for our seafood industry and I do not feel we can create a few jobs in one area while we destroy many in another area by polluting our waterways and air.

Favre—The environment would have to take precedence. If we allowed industries (creating hazardous waste) to come to town, that may provide jobs which would, in a very short term, solve some problems as far as providing some employment opportunities. But what we will have done is sold our souls to the devil and not done anything for the long term. I think there is a more than adequate supply of good businesses out there. I think our efforts should be put into bringing them to town and looking for the long-term fix.

Morreale—The people come first. If an industry were to come in that would harm the environment, I think that would be putting the people second. I feel we should create job opportunities that don't harm anybody. I am a firm believer that to have expansion of money supply, we need to have jobs. Therefore the people become primary in my responsibility and industry becomes secondary. I think we should go after the kind of industry that doesn't cause pollution. We are fundamentally a bedroom community. We could be more selective in choosing kinds of industry that will not harm the environment.

Do you foresee any new annexation in the near future. If so where?

Bennett—At the present time I do not. However, there is only one area that can be taken in, that would be across Highway 90 going out Blue Meadow Road. Once you get ready to annex an area you must have the facilities to give the people what they need and not make them wait as long as the present annexed area had to wait for them.

Favre—About the only place we could annex would be toward 603. There are some isolated areas that possibly could be annexed such as at the end of North Beach Boulevard and out Blue Meadow Road. If we feel like we can provide the people with the services the rest of the city enjoy, then I think we definitely need to look at annexation. I don't want to get in a situation like we've had for 20 years with the last annexed area, where for so many years services were promised but never delivered.

Morreale—The only logical way to move would be north. In my term of my administration, I feel there should be a short-term, an intermediate and a long-term study to determine if it is beneficial to the citizens Bay St. Louis to progress into that area. I would only be able to make that decision during the period of an intermediate, short-term and long-term study.

Do you feel the city has supported small businesses in the past and what will you do to help them prosper?

Bennett—I don't know what support the merchants have had in the last four years. Sales tax is as much of your tax base as your property tax. As an elected official the mayor must cooperate with all of the merchants.

If you cooperate with the ones you have, that is one way of drawing other small businesses here.

Favre—I believe, in the past, the city has been supportive of the small businesses. At the same time there are additional ways we can be more supportive. If we were able to encourage outsiders to come in and provide more shoppers, such as a program that's been implemented by the Business Association of bringing tourist buses to town. It's fine to get people here, but if we had a place for them to stay they would spend more money, especially with the small businesses. Now, we ship them in and ship them out. We need to keep them here longer.

Morreale—It seems to me the current situation in the business environment is being neglected. Every week I see businesses moving out of Bay St. Louis to a different area of the county. There is no inducement to keep a business in Bay St. Louis. I feel a study needs to be made and there should be some kind of inducement to, not only encourage people to stay, but to encourage new growth and new businesses. We should encourage more diverse forms of business to locate and maintain a domicile in Bay St. Louis.

What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the city and how would you solve it?

Bennett—Utilities, tax and the police department. I feel the utility rates are out of sight. We must lower the minimums then work toward lowering the rates. For eight and-a-half years we went without a tax increase and made many improvements. We went on a pay-as-you-go basis and we must return to that way of running the city.

We must have a police department that can work with other local agencies. That is the bottom line. They are too small to act as a separate entity.

Favre—If when I leave office, our children don't have to leave town when it is time for them to seek a job, I will feel like we accomplished our goal. To do that we will have had to bring the businesses to town; we will have improved the educational system to where it is second to none; we would have dealt with the drug problem.

In order for the jobs to be here, the tax situation, the environment and the economy have to all jell together. The bottom line is, if we can provide for our children, everything else will fall into place.

Morreale—I think the most pressing problem is the general attitude of the people in Bay St. Louis. The mayor should be the one to take the leadership. A positive, progressive attitude should be expressed. I think it becomes habit forming and generally generates a better atmosphere; more positive thinking. We've seen political machines come and go, but we haven't seen someone with a new, progressive theme come in and operate the city as a business. It takes someone to unify the people of Bay St. Louis. That would be the overall objective of my campaign.

Hancock's bright future

Port and Harbor Commissioners foresee growth of industry

Special to the Echo
BY LISA MONTI

The seven members of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission have a total of some 65 years of experience in economic development activities, ranging individually from one to 22 years of service on the commission.

These individuals are responsible for overseeing the county's industrial properties, including Port Bienville Industrial Park and Stennis Industrial Airpark, and for attracting new businesses and industries.

Five of the commissioners are appointed by the Board of Supervisors and two are appointed by the governor base-established business community in the county as she is about attracting new industry to the commission facilities.

"I feel we, the commission, have a responsibility to look inward to the community and protect the small business people who have been committed to this community for years. It's important for us to keep the community business climate healthy," she said.

"Through our new Office of Economic Development in the Port and Harbor Office, we have five agencies that are regularly scheduled to offer assistance to people in business in our community. The Small Business Development Center, Small maybe see things we don't see here. They see the influx of major companies, they know what's going on here, and it's very encouraging."

Elliott cited cooperation between local agencies and officials. "One thing that has helped us and the county is the marriage between the Port and Harbor and the Chamber of Commerce. Most people will contact the chamber for information on the schools, weather and other things, so that information is well available. We provide information on industrial development, so it's a very good combination."

Continuing, he said, "We also have dedicated officials who are park," he said.

McDonald shares in the optimism of the commission. "I see a very bright economic future for this area. It is based on a combination of the natural resources we have such as waterfront location, the fact that we have a seaport in place, that we own and operate a shortline railroad which is a big factor with some heavy industries, and of course with our location."

"People are able to work 365 days a year without lost time because of snow and other problems that the North experiences. I see a very definite ongoing growth pattern in this area, and we take very seriously our role as commissioners in trying to determine the best and most suitable industries for this area."

Omer DeBever, who has served on the commission for the past two years, stated, "I think the commission is doing the equivalent of what the Hard on recommendations made by the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The commissioners recently offered their perspective on the county's development activities, based on their areas of interest, expertise and years of service. They voiced a unanimous opinion that the county has a "bright" and "promising" future.

Commission President Ronnie Artigue predicted that, within a year, several industries will announce their location in Hancock County, the commissioners also praised the local spirit of cooperation and positive political climate that they say are essential to the county's progress.

Nancy Gex, a member of the commission since 1984, said she is equally concerned about the Business Administration, Gulf Coast Business Services, SCORE and the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center all schedule appointments for business people at no cost to help them with problems."

Gex said she is optimistic about the county's future. "I think the future looks more promising than ever as far as jobs in Hancock County. That should be very encouraging to people who have raised their families here because of the wonderful environment, and they'll know their children will have the opportunity to continue living and working here."

Russell Elliott, appointed to the commission five years ago, noted, "The prospects looking at the area are looking at our progress. These industries, with their national surveys, can very interested in the best you can get for the county. The cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the county are working together right now. Business and industry prospects see a good political climate, and that makes a lot of difference."

Dave McDonald will soon enter his 16th year as a member of the commission. He recalled the Port and Harbor Commission's origins in the early 1960s when community leaders were trying to establish a stable, year-round base on which the economy could be built.

Hardin Shattuck, Norton Haas Sr. and R. G. "Manny" Hubbard, assisted by then-State Rep. Clarence Ladner, were among the early workers who saw the potential in developing for Hancock County a seaport, airport and industrial

"I think the future is probably the best on the Coast for expansion because we have more room for development. We have a tremendous amount to offer. The elected officials are working really well together and everybody has the same thing in mind: progress and prosperity for Hancock County."

Countywide cooperation is important to the commission's success, according to Frierson. "I think the county, Bay St. Louis and Waveland are getting

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1989

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

No sport is quite complete without its cheerleaders. Cheerleaders come in several varieties, ranging from the beauty in the short skirt who dances on the sidelines to the player's proud relative in the stands. There is the alumni variety, as well as hopefuls too young to play for the team they're rooting for but planning to make the squad as soon as they're old enough.

There are people who are the wrong sex to play on the team they love, or who couldn't make the size requirements, or have the wrong body type, but that doesn't diminish their enthusiasm. In fact, it seems to increase it.

Then, there is the kind of cheerleader no one can miss—the one who appears to be visiting with buddies in the stands or along the fence; in reality, this guy hasn't missed a detail of play and wouldn't skip a game for the world.

Athletes in general like cheerleaders and several I know have told me they play better when they know there's a big crowd rooting for them.

This week, cheerleaders are one of the big items in local sports news.

Gulf Coast Community College is hosting a cheerleader workshop Saturday at its Perkinston campus with try-outs following Sunday.

It is too late to register as the deadline has already passed, but we do want to wish local participants luck and we hope to have some Hancock countians on the cheerleading squad. There are scholarships connected with earning a spot on the squad and we know some local students can use them.

You have a little more time to prepare if you want to cheer for Pearl River Community College in Poplarville. Try-outs there are going to be May 6, with registration at 9:30 a.m. in the Marvin R. White Coliseum.

Prepare a high school cheer for your individual performance; a dance and cheer routine will be taught that morning for a group performance. Dress comfortably in shorts, shirt and tennis shoes and bring an extra outfit if you want, but be prepared to stay all day.

Mascot try-outs will be conducted at the same time. All try-outs are closed to spectators, so if you want to see them you'll have to participate. Information is available from Norma Hammill at 795-6801, ext. 215.

Donnie Speights, a Bay St. Louis resident who's a cheerleader for Mississippi College in Clinton, won the Division 2 finals of the National Cheerleading Championships with the rest of his squad in San Antonio, Texas, last week.

Congratulations, Donnie, on your first performance in national competition! Winning Division 2 put the Mississippi College cheerleaders among the top five squads in the nation.

There will be a men's invitational basketball tournament next week, April 28-30, in the Valena C. Jones Gymnasium on Old Spanish Trail.

Registration deadline for the double elimination tournament is Sunday. The fee is $75 per team.

For more information, contact C.R. Smith at 467-0470.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws are now first place in baseball for their district and we congratulate them. In addition, Bay High is doing better in district play, with a 3-2 record right now. We hope to see continued improvement by the Tigers.

The last chance to register for Bay St. Louis Little League baseball will be Friday, 6-8 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m.-noon, at the Little League field. Children who are 9-13 years old can register and should bring a birth certificate and the $15 registration fee.

John Scafide at 467-5481 or Eddie Favre at 467-9092 can provide more information.

District first place held by SSC

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw baseball team posted two decisive victories over St. Martin and d'Iberville to remain in a tie for first place in the district with St. Martin. Both schools have 6-2 district records.

Last Friday the Rock-A-

Chaws traveled to St. Martin to play the Yellow Jackets, who were leading the district with a 4-1 record. The combined pitching of Greg Schruoff and Cedric Smith shut down the St. Martin attack in claiming a 4-2 win.

The Rock-A-Chaws outth

the Yellow Jackets eight hits to two hits, and knocked starter Mickey Dutil off the mound in the fifth inning when Tom Zant singled and Kevin Jacobi followed with a double.

When Duane Dobson came in to pitch, Greg Schruoff immediately singled to keep the Rock-A-Chaw rally alive.

Starter Greg Schruoff allowed only one St. Martin hit in four innings. The only run allowed by Schruoff was when Mike Simmons struck out, but reached first when the ball got by the catcher.

After a sacrifice bunt and a walk, Simmons scored on a single by Roy Maniscalco. Schruoff immediately got Dusty Seymour to ground out to end the inning.

Cedric Smith relieved Schruoff in the fifth inning, and also allowed only one hit, and one unearned run.

Ahead 3-2 at the end of six innings, the Rocks tallied their final run when Scott Heitzmann singled, and pinch runner Steven Schruoff scored all the way from first base on Marc Matherne's deep double to right centerfield.

Smith mowed down the final three batters for a 4-2 Rock-A-Chaw victory.

Tuesday night the Rocks traveled to d'Iberville to play the defending District 4A

Girls' softball opening scheduled for Friday

BY DENA BISNETTE
Bay Area Little League Girls' Softball will open its season Friday with a 5:30 p.m. ceremony at McDonald Field.

Judy Summers, spokesperson for the program, said Natalie Bell of WLOX-TV 13 will throw out the first ball of the season.

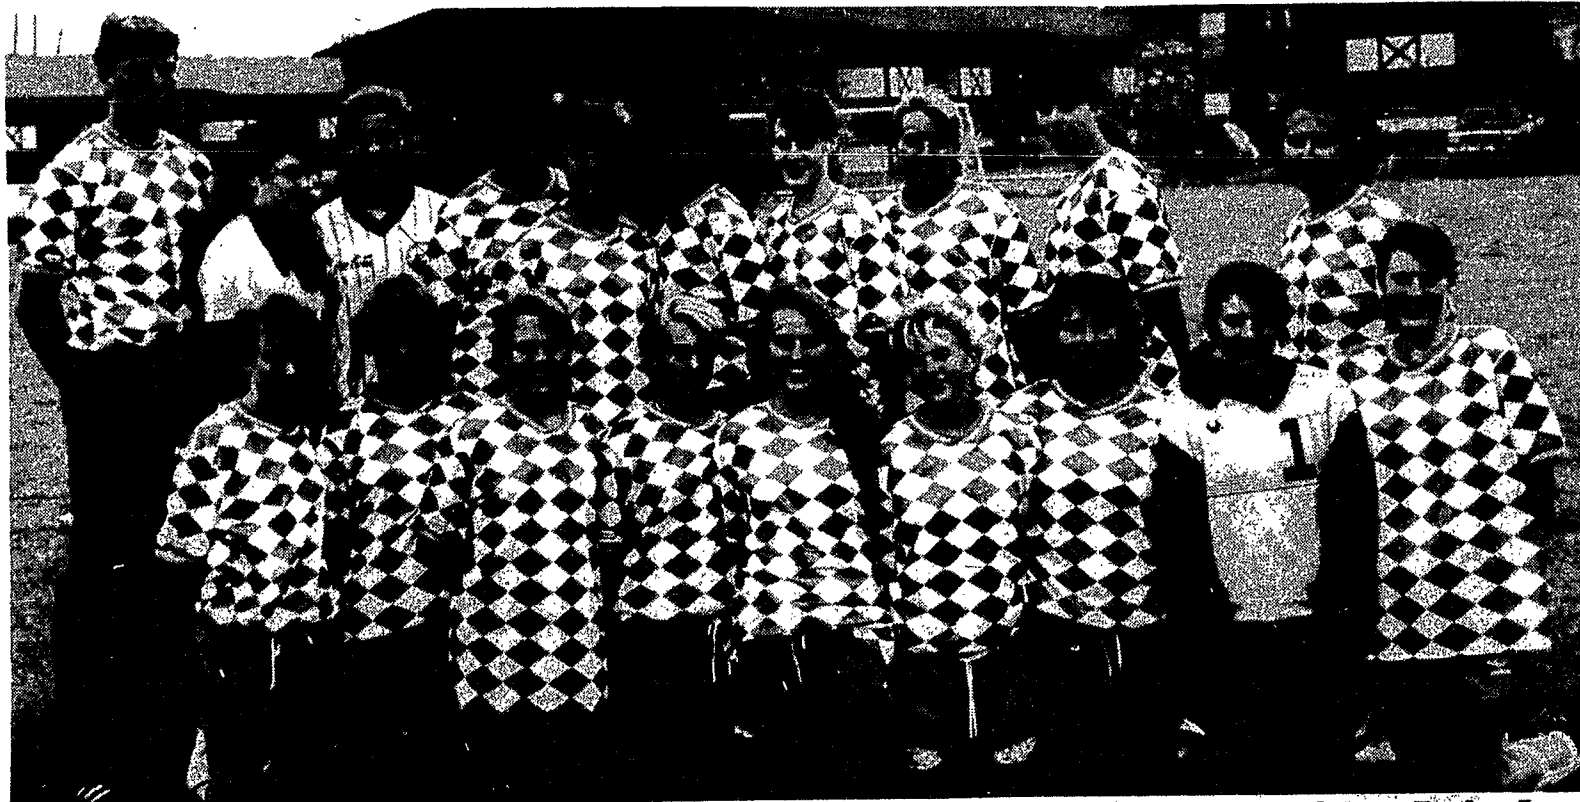

The ceremony will be followed by two games. Bay Tech will face Thomas Tigers in the nine-12 division, followed by a 13-15 division game between the Bruisers and Cardinals.

New players for the 10 existing teams are still being accepted. Anyone who would like to play should call Summers at 467-8413.

Girls ages nine-12 play according to the 10-man softball rules, which adds a short fielder to the regular nine-man team. The 13-15 division uses the nine-man system.

Summers said the program has grown this year to include two new 13-15 teams, but Bay Area Little League is interested in starting a new division for girls 16-18. At least 15 players are needed to make a team, which would compete against teams from the Gulfport area.

SOCCER CHAMPS—Bay St. Louis U-16 girls' The Diamonds, captured first place in district competition on the Coast. Led by Coach Bart Brooks and Coach Chris Poolson the Diamonds shut out Ocean Springs 2-0 and beat the Gulfport team 4-3. Bottom row, from left, are Brittany Ellis, Patty Weems, Cherie Todd, Kim Weinstein, Day Hays, Lea Anne Fayard, Stacey Feuerstein, Kristy Heitzmann and Ashley

Magnolia Gators take district title

Fredericks, Jennifer Debenport, Coach Mike Doney, Nicole Krost, Nicole Penton, Marion Labat, Alyson Tuttle, Lindy Heitzmann and Coach Toni Doney. Not pictured is Beth Dillenkoffer.

The District Championship for girls under-12 soccer was won by Bay Area Youth Soccer's Magnolia Gators in Pascagoula April 8 and 9.

The Gators, coached by Mike and Toni Doney, finished the tournament with a 15-1-2 record and advance to state competition in Jackson, May 13-14.

In district play, the Gator girls were held to a 0-0 tie against Gulfport and beat Ocean Springs 3-1, to give them the victory.

Ocean Springs scored early in the game, which seemed to motivate the Gators. The Gators' Suzanne Reid then countered with a goal. Nicole Krost followed with another score on an assist from Marion Labat.

At half-time the Gators still needed one score to secure a first place position, so the girls relentlessly pounded the goal until Suzanne Reid made the point on a rebound scuffle.

The team then held their ground throughout the fourth quarter with outstanding play by the defensive line and by Gwen Krost at sweeper.

The winning the league division championship was a team effort, each girl playing a vital role, the coaches said.

Tigers have 3-2 record in district competition

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay High Tigers, now 3-2 in district play, won three this week and dropped one game to Poplarville.

On Monday Afternoon, the Tigers won a close district contest against Pearl River Central.

In the second inning of the 7-6 home game, the Tigers scored seven runs on bases on balls by Charlie Mitchell and Kyle LaFontaine and singles by Chris Heaps, David Weems, Doug Power and Charlie Mitchell.

In the top of the third, Pearl River Central scored two runs on three hits and a double.

During the fourth inning, Pearl River Central scored three more runs on only three hits and some errors that proved costly to Bay High.

The visitors led off the seventh with three singles in a row to score one run, then Will Seymour, who has been throwing well lately, came in to relieve David Weems at pitcher with runners on second and third. The first batter he faced was thrown out at first with no advance. The next two were out, saving the game for Bay High.

The Tigers journeyed to Hentley on Saturday to play the East Central Hornets.

In the top of the first inning, Doug Power drew a base on balls and Darrell Murphy hit a double to let Power score.

East Central came back in the bottom of the first tie the score, then in the top of the second the Tigers scored two more runs on hits by LaFontaine and Heaps.

The game was 3-4 until the top of the fifth, when the Tigers turned in eight runs on a singles by Mitchell, Weems and Power and a double by Murphy.

In the sixth inning, Bay High scored two more runs on singles by LaFontaine and Weems.

In the top of the seventh, the Tigers scored once more on a single by Jamie Kingston and a sharply hit ball by James Mayfield advanced Kingston to third on an error by the Hornet second baseman, leaving the final score 15-6.

The Tigers dropped Friday's game to Poplarville 7-0 due to some very costly errors.

Poplarville scored two runs in the first, including one home run, and Bay High was unable to put together a scoring combination despite a single by Murphy and a base on balls by Calvin Thigpen.

The game stayed 2-0 until the fifth inning, when Poplarville got a double, a single and an error on Bay High. Poplarville added four runs in the top of the seventh.

Seymour pitched a good, strong game for the Tigers but the bats were not there to score. Murphy was leading hitter for the team with three of the Tigers' five hits. Thigpen and Brinks were each credited with one hit.

Bay High took a home-field victory Thursday over St. John of Gulfport, defeating the Eagles 10-3.

St. John started out with the advantage in the top of the second when Bay High's Weems gave up a homer to T. Clifton.

However, after the lone hit, Weems kept St. John hitless for the next two innings. He then gave up two singles on a walk and a run.

In the second inning, the Tigers started racking up points with six runs on singles by Brinks, Thigpen, Power and Murphy.

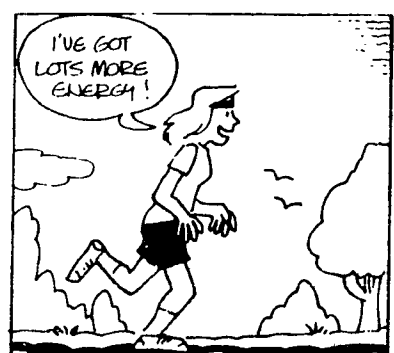

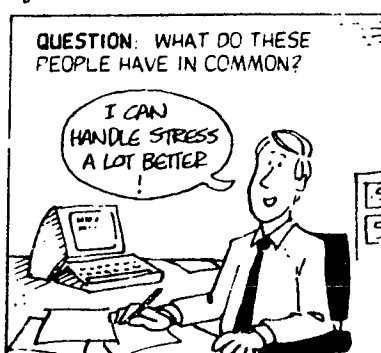

In the third inning Bay High started off with a single each by Brinks and LaFontaine, but could not generate any runs and left the bases loaded.

Brinks and LaFontaine drew walks in the fifth and an error by St. John's first baseman gave the Tigers the advantage. Power hit a double to score a run, followed by Murphy with a single.

By the time the inning was over, the Tigers had scored four runs.

Weems was the winning pitcher, with only four base hits by St. John.

champion d'Iberville Warriors. It didn't take long for the Rocks to get on the scoreboard, as Greg Schruoff led off with an infield single, stole second, and scored when Cedric Smith blasted a homerun over the left field fence.

Heitzmann and Zant followed with walks, and Marc Matherne walked to load the bases with no outs. But Warrior pitcher George Slade got Nicaud, Ascani and Dean to strike out to get out of the inning with the bases loaded.

Smith had the d'Iberville batters completely fooled all night, as he allowed only two base runners until two outs in the bottom of the sixth inning when catcher Allen Roberts doubled to centerfield for the Warriors' only hit of the game. Smith got left-fielder Chris Krohn to ground out to end the inning.

The Rock-A-Chaws came back in the top of the seventh to score three more runs when Matherne led off with a sharp single, followed by Nicaud's double, Gino Ascani's perfect bunt down the third base line, and Bert Dean's double over third base. These four consecutive hits accounted for the runs necessary to ice the game, with the Rocks ahead 6-0.

Both St. Stanislaus and St. Martin have identical 6-2 district records with two district games remaining. The Rock-A-Chaws travel to East Central Saturday to play at 3 p.m. and conclude their district schedule with a Friday afternoon game in Kiln against Hancock North Central.

The successful bidder must deliver to the Transfer Agent within thirty (30) days of the date of sale, or at such other later date as may be designated by the County, the names and addresses of the registered owners of the Bonds and the denominations in which the Bonds of each maturity are to be issued. The Bonds will be general obligations of the County payable as to principal and interest out of and secured by an irrevocable pledge of the avails of a direct and continuing tax to be levied annually without limitation as to time, rate or amount upon the taxable property within the geographical limits of the county. The County will levy annually a special tax upon all taxable property within the geographical limits of the County adequate and sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds as the same falls due. The Bonds are not exempt from Federal income taxes; however, the Bonds are exempt from State of Mississippi income taxes.

Proposals should be addressed to the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Series 1989, of Hancock County, Mississippi, and should be filed with the Clerk of the County on or prior to the date and hour hereinabove named.

Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, or exchange, issued or certified by a bank located in the State of Mississippi, payable to the County in the amount of Twenty One Thousand Dollars ($21,000) as a guaranty that the bidder will carry out its contract and purchase the Bonds if its bid is accepted. If the successful bidder fails to purchase the Bonds pursuant to its bid and contract, then the amount of such good faith check shall be retained by the County as liquidated damages for such failure. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. All checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately on award of the Bonds. All proposals shall remain firm for three hours after the time specified for the opening of proposals and an award of the Bonds, or rejection of proposals, will be made by the County within said period of time.

The award, if any, will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest net interest cost to the County. The net interest cost will be determined by computing the aggregate interest on the Bonds over the life of the issue at the rate or rates of interest specified by the bidder, less present value, if any, it is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the net interest cost (computed to six decimal places), but such statement will not be considered a part of the proposal. The Governing Body reserves the right to reject any and all bids submitted and to waive any irregularity or informality.

The Bonds are offered subject to the unqualified approval of the legality thereof by Crosswell, Tammy, Noble & Allan, Jackson, Mississippi, Bond Counsel. The County will pay for all legal fees and will pay for the printing and validation of the Bonds, and will also furnish the usual closing papers, including a certificate evidencing the fact that no litigation is pending in any way affecting the legality of the bonds or the taxes to be levied for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon.

Delivery of the bonds is expected to be made within sixty (60) days after the stated date of sale of the Bonds at a place to be designated by the purchaser and without cost to the purchaser.

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the bonds unless specifically declined by the purchaser, but neither the failure to print such number on any bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on the Bonds shall be paid by the County; the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

Further information with respect to the Bonds may be obtained from the office of the Chancery Clerk, Hancock County, County Courthouse, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. By order of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, on behalf of Hancock County, Mississippi, on April 14, 1989.

Reading to music

Program helps students learn phonetic skills

BY DENA BISNETTE
Teresa Browning has no trouble getting volunteers from her second grade class during reading lessons.

In fact, the students are eager to read. The difference in her classroom, however, is that the children are learning to read by using music.

Browning is been using the "Sing, Spell, Read and Write" program for the second time this year at Waveland Elementary School.

Last year, her class had to be added at the school when the existing second grade classes were filled. Getting materials was a last-minute process, and she discovered "Sing, Spell, Read and Write" in a catalog.

The program has recently been offered to the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school district as part of participation in a four-year study to test the effectiveness of the teaching methods involved. When the study is over, the district can keep the materials and continue using the program.

Rodney Fisher, principal at North Bay Elementary, saw Browning's class in action and is interesting in trying it at his school. However, it involves outside funding which has been delayed one year, so North Bay students will probably have to wait until the 1990-91 school year.

Browning said she is pleased with the progress her students have been making. Last year, their test scores improved.

"Last year I had a very diversified group, and after I used this even the lowest students were on level by the end of the year," the teacher said.

This year, her second graders had gone through the second grade materials by spring break and have begun working with third grade materials.

The children begin by singing along to a record as Browning points out the letters of the alphabet, which she has posted in a colorful display above the board. Some letters, vowels and consonants which have more than one sound, are repeated in the series. Each letter has a picture beside it to remind students of its phonetic sound, such as the apron pictured with one letter "A" and the apple with the other "A".

Children have also learned to recognize the two phonetic symbols for long and short vowel sounds as they sing the song, which includes the sounds of all the letters in sequence. In an encore, a student volunteer points out the letters for classmates.

The program has additional records with accompanying cards. In one exercise, students use the cards to prompt their classmates to read whatever vowel sound they are working on that day. The cards can be mixed up for use without the music, to see if students are merely singing along or retaining what they have learned.

Browning's youngsters sometimes get stuck on a word and she encourages them to "sound it out." Even the shyest child in her class of 27 will try this method.

A third exercise set to music works with combinations of sounds. There are charts filled with words and bright artwork to go with these.

An example is the one the children use to learn the "gh" combination. They begin with it at the beginning of words, using "ghost" as an example. They also work with the other sounds of the combination, such as the ending sound in "rough" and the silent version in "though".

Browning says singing seems particularly to help some children who would normally be timid about reading aloud.

"A lot of children are afraid to start with the reader, to try it on their own," she said.

"In a way, this makes teaching easier, too. I love it. They enjoy it while they're learning."

The students have written work to back up what they have learned through the "sing, Spell, Read and Write" program and Browning said she is pleased with their progress in that area as well.

TEACHER TERESA BROWNING, left, collects word cards as children sing their way through a reading lesson. Browning said she now has second grade students working on third grade material, which is at least partially due to the musical reading program she is using. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

SAFETY LESSON—Alice Ladner of Coast Electric Power Association, dressed as Raggedy Ann, gives children at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library a safety lesson during a special story hour. Ladner's presentation, which informed children about electricity, was part of the library's National Library Week observance. The story hour was followed by a children's tea sponsored by Coast Electric with Kathy Fernandez as chairperson. (Echo staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

American Cancer Society seeks input from economically disadvantaged

To better understand the cancer prevention and control needs of disadvantaged Americans in Tennessee, Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi, the American Cancer Society will conduct a hearing in Jackson on May 11.

Dr. John Kelly, regional committee chairman announced the society is currently seeking people interested in presenting testimony at the hearing.

Kelly said the hearing is one of a series the society is holding across the country in May and June as part of an initiative the society has mounted to help Americans who are at greatest risk of dying from cancer—economically disadvantaged whites, blacks, Hispanics, native Americans and older people.

By hearing testimony presented from disadvantaged people who have had experiences with cancer themselves or within their families, and from people who serve the disadvantagged, Kelly said the society hopes to determine the magnitude of the unmet cancer prevention and control needs and identify model programs and services.

ACS National President Dr. Harold P. Freeman, said "We are committed to helping disadvantaged Americans reduce their high risk of cancer by providing leadership that mobilizes new and existing resources to meet their needs."

The series will culminate in a special "Report to the Nation" in Washington, D.C. in July.

A panel will preside over the Jackson hearing to listen to, and ask questions of, people presenting testimony. The panel, chaired by Dr. Freeman, will consist of four society officials, representatives from the Centers for Disease Control and the National Cancer Institute and other officials.

Most of the hearing day will be devoted to testimony from scheduled presenters. Each presenter will have five minutes to present testimony and five minutes to respond to questions. The society is currently accepting nominees for presenters.

There will also be a one-hour period for open testimony that is open to anyone who would like to make a statement of five minutes or less to the panel. In addition, the society will accept written testimony from individuals and groups unable to attend or present.

To recommend potential presenters, to register, to make comments during the open testimony period, or to submit written remarks for the record, interested persons should contact Mary Kearney, Porter/Novelli, 1001 30th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 2007, 202-342-7083.

European summer study programs offered by UNO

Opportunity will knock, not once, but twice for high school students wishing to earn college credit through the University of New Orleans while they live and study in Europe this summer.

UNO will offer two early admission programs which combine travel and academics in a European setting—the Glories of France in Montpellier, and the European Experience in Innsbruck, Austria.

The program in France, being held for the seventh year, emphasizes learning the French language and culture, while the Austrian program, in its fifth year, focuses on European history, art, geography and drama.

Both programs begin in late June and last about 45 days. Each begins with a pre-study tour, includes additional travel on weekends during the summer school, and offers an optional week-long tour of Italy when classes are finished.

Students will be taught by UNO faculty members and guest professors, selected for their ability to combine the travel experience of the students with classroom learning. Students may earn from three to 12 hours of college credit depending on the program chosen.

The Glories of France (June 27-Aug. 5) was begun in 1983 to help high school students become more familiar with France and improve their fluency in French.

A pre-study tour introduces students to southern France—the Riviera, Provence, Languedoc and Carmargue. A post-study tour features travel to such achievements of French culture as the chateaus of the Loire, the cathedral at Chartres, the palace of Versailles and the attractions of Paris.

The European Experience (June 21-Aug. 5) was begun in 1985 and is based at the University of Innsbruck, Austria, where students take two courses from fine arts, geography, history and drama.

The travel begins with a pre-study tour starting in London and continuing across the European continent with stops in Bruges, Paris, Strasbourg and Ulm. It continues with weekend excursions to Munich, Vienna, Salzburg and Venice.

The programs are open to high school sophomores through June graduates, having overall B averages and who are recommended by their counselors or principals.

The France program has some language requirements—one year of study and a minimum 3.25 average in French.

The European Experience program requires students to have an ACT composite score of 24 or better or a combined SAT score of 1000 or better.

For more information on any of the programs, contact Robert Roemer, director, UNO Honors Program, University of New Orleans, LA 70148. (504) 286-7008.

RULES AND HOW TO PLAY

1. NO PURCHASE NECESSARY TO PARTICIPATE IN THE GAME OR SWEEPSTAKES. Receive a FREE game board and game ticket on request at the checkout counter or store office. Limit one ticket each adult (18 years of age or older) per store visit per day.

2. TO PLAY: Simply punch out the perforated portion of the game ticket to reveal your four markers. Place the markers in the appropriate spaces on the game board. FREE squares do not require a marker. FREE squares are not transferable. Do not attach the markers to the game board with glue or tape in a permanent manner.

3. TO WIN: Play just like regular bingo to win $5,000 or $100 cash; complete a row of 5 across, down or diagonally. The $50 and $20 cash games win by collecting a row of 5 across ONLY. Only one winner per card will be accepted. If a marker reads "You Win $2" or "You Win $1," present the marker to collect the prize immediately from any authorized store personnel upon verification.

4. TO CLAIM A PRIZE: All markers in the winning row should be removed and transferred to a new collector card by the customer. Customer must submit and sign the collector card and initial the front of each marker in the winning row in the presence of authorized store personnel who will arrange for verification. Customer may continue playing with the remaining board and markers. Instant winners of $1 and $2 may be verified and paid at the store upon verification.

Potential winners of $5,000, $100, $50 and $20 cash games must be verified by the game sponsor. Upon verification of game materials, the customer will be awarded the prize. Winners will be notified within fourteen (14) days. The game sponsor's validation decision is final. All potential winners will be asked to sign a release allowing the sponsor, or any of its affiliated companies, to publicize the name and/or picture of the winner in their advertising media without further compensation. All game materials submitted for verification become the property of the game sponsor and will not be returned. All tax liability on the prize won in any category is the responsibility of the prize winner.

5. GAME MATERIALS: All game materials will be rejected and judged VOID if not obtained from, and verified by, authorized personnel, or if any part of any game piece is illegible, altered, mutilated, defaced, tampered with, forged, contains printing or other errors, or is irregular in any way. If as a result of printing error or similar occurrence the number of prize claims in any prize category exceeds the number of prizes set forth in the official rules, a random drawing will be conducted from among such claims to award the total number of prizes in the category(s) in question. Any attempt to defraud or forge game materials in any way will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Game VOID where prohibited by law.

6. ENDING OF GAME: The game ends when all game tickets are distributed. All prizes must be claimed within 7 days after the termination of game or prizes are forfeited. If prize claims for prizes in any category equals the number of prizes advertised, then the game as it relates to that specific prize category shall immediately terminate without notice and any unverified claims submitted at or after that time shall be automatically rejected. Unclaimed prizes will not be awarded. Scheduled termination date is June 24, 1989.

7. Only game materials with Series JJ17 are valid for this game.

8. Employees of participating stores, members of their immediate family and their IRS listed dependents, the sponsor, or its advertising agencies, and game suppliers are not eligible to win any prizes. Only U.S. citizens eligible to play this game.

9. The sponsor may delay the game commencement date, and thereafter extend the game period, if such com-menicement is delayed by a cause which is beyond reasonable control of the sponsor.

FOR THE HUNGER.

You can make a big difference in the war against hunger. Through WINN-DIXIE'S "Even It Up" program, you can help collect funds for palatable food items for needy families. Your customers will be "evening up" their grocery bills to the next dollar. Your participation in the program will help us keep our commitment to fighting hunger in our community.
